«Among Saints and Blessed I Am, here is my Throne, together with God the Father and God the Holy Spirit.

In a Light even more than the light I Am, I exist in my Kingdom of Love and in the whole Universe.

All of you, Humanity, are mine, you belong to Me and you return to Me. Don't lose the main road, don't get lost behind vain things, those things that disfigure your soul, going to infect your spirit that always struggles with your flesh.

Pray children, prayer gives you strength on your tiring journey. I have left you my Word, impress It on your heart what It says to you.

Do not neglect, but try to carry out what I say to you, meditate with your intellect and treasure it. Then transform it with the works to be presented to the neighbor you meet, giving them these precious pearls.

Help the weak, the heartbroken, the one who feels defeated, tired and disappointed, caress his wounds and do not judge, the judgment is not up to you. You are all brothers, love each other, extend your hands as well as your heart, an open and sincere heart.

I, Jesus, am looking for goodness among you, but it is as rare as ever on Earth, as it has never been now.

Don't do back bad for bad, forgive, imitate Me your Heavenly Father, gaze with pity at my Sorrowful Passion. Always say, in the many situations of life: "How would Jesus act in my situation?". Watch yourselves, examine yourself.

I, Jesus, want simplicity of heart. Imitate your children, when they approach you with purity of heart, without malice, in doing so you are truly my children.

I want to take you to my Kingdom of Love, where there is joy and peace, an eternal life with the Most Holy Trinity and the Queen of Heaven, my Most Holy Mother and your Mother, where you will sing the endless Hosanna.

You all, Love Me! Sing hymns to Me, and in this state of bliss you will forever be.

The Lord Jesus blesses you and with you all those children who will read these Words of Consolation and Love. Your Jesus. The Most Holy Trinity. The Amen».
